

CORONAVIRUS

MYTHS

FACTS

Everyone is at equal risk of getting coronavirus

Your risk depends on factors like where you live, where you've traveled recently, your age, and if you have serious chronic medical conditions

You'll get coronavirus from your pet

No evidence shows that pets can carry coronavirus

You can get coronavirus from Chinese products

It's safe to receive packages from areas where coronavirus has been reported

A face mask will protect you from catching coronavirus

People who are ill can wear masks to prevent spreading their germs, but it's not recommended that healthy people wear them

Coronavirus is automatically fatal

The World Health Organization states that most people - about 80% - recover from it

You'll get coronavirus from some foods

Coronavirus can't grow in food. It needs a host (a person or animal, excluding household pets) to spread through

Our Care Advocate team is here to help you during this time of uncertainty. You can count on us to only share information from trusted resources. We're here to help you through all your questions and concerns!